39. This is crazy

I don't like this.

This didn't use to exist until 9/11.

Now, innocent people are being forcefully subject to unreasonable searches and seizures.

People should just encrypt their cell phones and Laptops.

If airports force the encryption should be open, then people need to use programs like VeraCrypt.

Hidden containers mean that, even if TSA or customs force somebody to disclose HIPPA protected information then somebody can store it in a hidden container. Encryption is mans best friend. If by-law the information is protected under HIPPA or other laws or our Constitution, and customs forces you at gunpoint to reveal the password then there is always the hidden drives under software such as VeraCrypt which used to be TrueCrypt.
